Breeze

A gentle wind is called breeze. Sea breeze and land breeze are the two types of breeze.

Sea breeze

The breeze that blows from the sea towards the land during day time is known as sea breeze. As the warm air from the land rises up and the cold air from the sea occupies the space over the land.

Land breeze

The breeze that blows from the land towards the sea during night time is known as land breeze. The warm air from the sea rises up, and so the cold air from the land moves towards the sea.
